

Community Read with Nic Stone

7 p.m. Thursday, April 25, 2019
 Glenbard North 990 Kuhn., Carol Stream, IL 60188

The Glenbard Parent Series has selected the critically acclaimed young adult novel Dear Martin by best selling author Nic Stone as its 2018-19 second semester community read.

In this moving portrait of a college bound young man, Ms. Stone boldly tackles racial profiling and American race relations as the book's lead character attempts to deal with social injustice and violence by writing letters to Dr. Martin Luther King.

After obtaining a psychology degree from Spelman College, Ms. Stone moved to Israel looking to capture the human experience through the stories of those around her, stories that taught her empathy and challenged her neatly divided view of the world. Ms. Stone is also the author of the award-winning young adult novel Odd One Out. All students and caregivers are welcome to attend this free event that is open to the public.

Students at Glenbard North will hear Ms Stone during the day at an author event sponsored by the school's English department.

These free programs are open to the public. CPDUs are available.
